Files Reflect Unhappiness At Beck, Junior, Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators developed today the Anheuser-Busch Co. was unhappy with "overgrown, spoiled boy" Dave Beck Jr. but was chary of going to bat on it with "His Majesty, The Wheel."

Such phrases as this in description of the Becks popped out of the brewing company's files as the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee pursued the question of whether Dave Beck Sr. misused his power as president of the giant Teamsters Union for personal gain.

Reports Ike Is Reducing Aid Proposal

Repeats Statement Regarding World Tension, Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders reported today that President Eisenhower is scaling down the administration's projected $4,400,000,000 foreign aid program to $3,880,000,000.

Leaders of both parties gave newsmen the revised figure after they had conferred with Eisenhower at the White House for about 90 minutes. They said $2,800,000,000 will be sought for military assistance and $1,080,000,000 for economic aid.

The bulk of the economic assistance would be offered in the form of long-term low interest loans.

A reduction in the foreign aid request was forecast by the President April 18. He told Congress then that new spending authority for military assistance could be reduced by 500 million dollars.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said the President made "a strong appeal" against any further reduction of the foreign aid program and on behalf of the administration's total $71,800,000,000 budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Eisenhower was said to have repeated pretty much what he told a news conference yesterday—that there can be no major spending cuts until world tension eases.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said Eisenhower's defense of his foreign aid program and the budget generally was "inspiring."

In advance of the White House discussion, Johnson had said the Democrats will not "play politics" with the administration's foreign aid program.

Arrests Man In Dynamite Death Case

Wife and Stepson Died From Blast Set Under Bedroom

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Police today seized a 59-year-old man they identified as Charles J. Sexton, who has been charged with the dynamite deaths of his estranged wife and stepson in Paragould, Ark.

Sexton was picked up early today by East Gary police shortly after his arrival in Porter County to visit a nephew.

Sexton was pointed out to Deputy Marshal Harold O'Rourke by two housewives who were neighbors of the nephew, James Sexton. The nephew had warned his neighbors his uncle might try to visit him.

Police said Sexton had denied any knowledge of the killings.

Sheriff Bill Hyde of Paragould, Ark., and State Trooper Bill Read said steps would be taken immediately to attempt to extradite the man arrested in Gary.

A warrant for Sexton on the murder charge was issued yesterday by Municipal Judge George Thiel at the request of Prosecutor Terry Shell. The dynamiting occurred Tuesday.

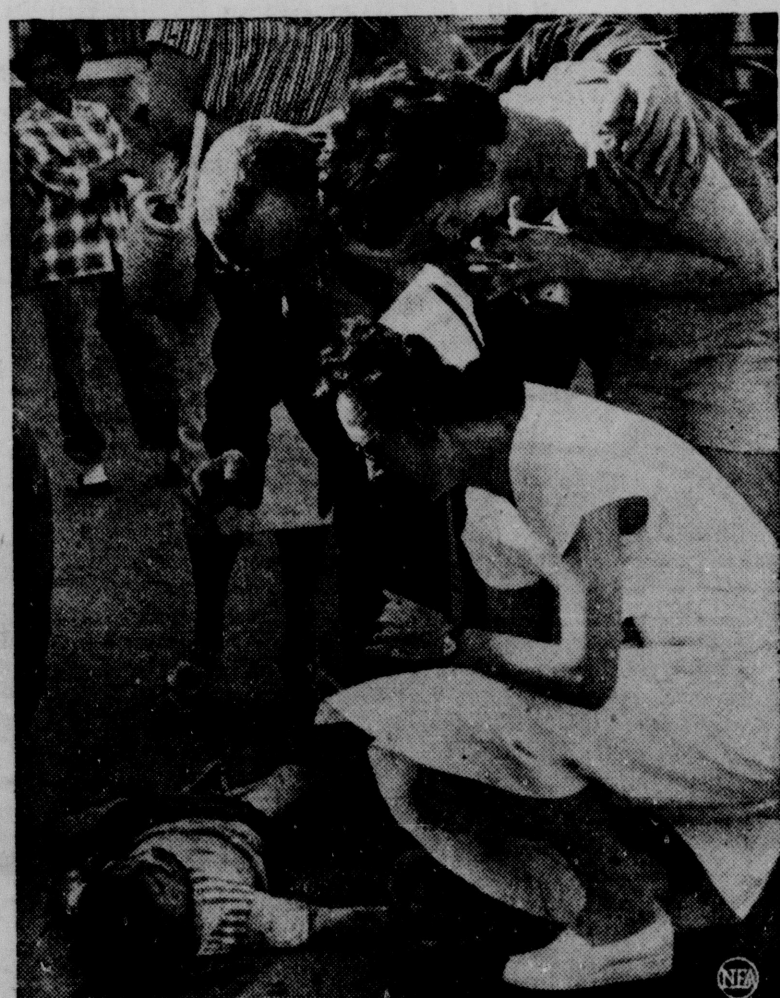

Last night at Little Rock, Alton Bryant, special agent in charge of the FBI office there, said federal agents had charged Sexton with "unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the crime of murder."

Sexton, a construction worker, was charged in the deaths of Mrs. Edna Sexton, 36, and Charles Bittinger. The woman and child were killed when a dynamite charge exploded beneath a room in which they were sleeping in the same bed.

Possible Shuffle At Hand

Says Elroy Bromwich Has Agreed to Quit As Committeeman For the State GOP

ST. LOUIS, (AP) — The Post Dispatch reported that Elroy W. Bromwich of St. Louis, had conditionally agreed to resign as Missouri Republican national committeeman.

The condition was that a replacement be found who could end intraparty Republican fighting in Missouri.

The newspaper said in a dispatch from Washington, Lon Hocker, St. Louis attorney and unsuccessful candidate for governor, was being backed by Republican leaders as Bromwich's successor.

Hocker and Kenneth Wangelin of Poplar Bluff, state Republican chairman, denied today they had any knowledge of such a move.

Bromwich could not be reached for comment.

Hocker said he had not spoken to either H. Meade Alcorn Jr., Republican national chairman, or Bromwich about the matter.

Hocker said he had not been offered the job yet and could not say whether he would accept it until such an offer was made.

"I have not talked to Mr. Bromwich for a long time and I have no knowledge of the possibility of his resignation," Wangelin said.

The Post-Dispatch said Hocker had been mentioned to Wangelin 10 days ago as a possible successor to Bromwich and that the state chairman was considering it.

Bromwich has served one year of his four year term as national committeeman.

He has been a controversial figure among Missouri Republicans after lending support to a movement to drop Vice President Richard Nixon from the Republican ticket last November.

There has been a factional fight among Missouri Republicans which was blamed by some for Missouri's poor Republican showing in the last national election.

Missourians also re-elected a Democratic senator, Thomas C. Hennings Jr., and a Democratic governor, James T. Blair.

The Post-Dispatch said a Bromwich resignation would be partly due to a desire to end the factional dispute and partly because of his recent election as president of Sterling Aluminum Products Inc., of St. Louis, which would require much of his time.

Alcorn has listed the Missouri feud as a problem he must solve if the Republicans stand a chance to gain control of Congress next year. He succeeded Leonard W. Hall as national chairman Feb. 1.

The Post-Dispatch said Alcorn reportedly said Hocker would be acceptable as a replacement for Bromwich.

Cool Air Expected To Bring Heavy Rain For Most of State

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cool Canadian air heading for Missouri today carried prospects of locally heavy rainfall over the entire state tonight.

It's the same combination of cool air and moisture bearing southerly winds from the Gulf of Mexico that plastered 2.36 inches of heavy rain on Denver during a brief period early today, weatherman Frank Johnston said.

A 50-mile wide area of western Missouri was hit by rain squalls this morning dumping as much as .38 inches at Kansas City in a 3-hour period. Johnston said the squalls entered the state at Butler moving north into Iowa.

The forecast calls for an overnight reading in the upper 40s in extreme northwest Missouri to lower 60s southeast. Tomorrow should be in the 60s north to near 80 south.

Park Board Bonds Power Is Approved

State Properties Committee Passes Bills Unanimously

JEFFERSON CITY (MPA) — Legislation to give the State Park Board authority to finance new park facilities through revenue bonds were approved here Wednesday night by the state properties committee.

Rep. Milt Overstreet (D-Pettis), chairman, said the two bills were approved by a unanimous vote. However, he said preparation of committee amendments would prevent the proposals from being presented to the house until next week. The bills have already passed the Senate.

The bills would authorize the park board to construct hotels, motels, restaurants and other tourist facilities in state parks through revenue bonds and to pay off the bonds from income received from the projects. One of the major projects proposed by the park board is a plush convention hotel facility at the new Table Rock State Park in southwest Missouri.

One of the committee amendments is expected to face a hot fight on the floor of the house. The amendment would restrict the new park projects to areas in which private tourist facilities are inadequate.

The two bills were opposed at the committee hearing by representatives of the Missouri Hotel Assn. and the Missouri Motel Assn. Three Sedalia motel operators, Melvin Harms, Sedalia Motel, Floyd Dillon, Boots Motel, and Nelson Barton, El Rancho Motel, attended the hearing as opponents but did not speak.

Jim Kolb, Jefferson City, vice-president of the motel association, told the committee that approval of the legislation would be like "taking our tax dollars to put the state into business against us." He said the motel association was "violently opposed" to the bills, which he said would put the state in competition with private industry.

John Bryan, St. Louis, representing the hotel association, said the Table Rock convention hotel might take conventions away from other Missouri areas as well as to compete with private business in the Table Rock area.

Dinh Diem Says Country In Tough Spot

Thanks U. S. For Aid In Address To Congress Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem told Congress today South Viet Nam, not yet two years old, is in a more critical position than any other free Asian country. But he pledged to continue the fight against communism.

In a speech prepared for a joint session of Congress, he thanked the United States for its moral and material aid.

"My people appreciate both its great import and its profound significance," he said.

Diem's appearance before Congress followed a meeting with President Eisenhower at the White House to discuss means to safeguard Diem's strategic Southeast Asian country.

In his speech, the Vietnamese leader said the Asian people are no longer resigned and passive, but are impatient and eager to reduce their "immense technical backwardness."

"They clamor for a rapid and immediate economic development," he added. "The leaders of Asia, whatever their ideologies, are all faced with the tragic urgency of the economic and social problems of their countries."

He said they are now debating whether democratic or totalitarian methods should be adopted to meet their urgent economic needs.

"The efforts being made to safeguard liberal democracy through aid given by the industrial countries of the West play a vital role in this debate," Diem said. "For the honor of humanity the United States has made the most important contribution to this end."

Nations Will Get Border Troop Plan

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Honduras and Nicaragua were to get a plan from the Organization of American States today providing for withdrawal of troops from their disputed border areas within four days.

The border region was reported quiet yesterday as the OAS peace team drafted the withdrawal plan and checked reports of border incidents said to have occurred Monday.

The OAS peace mission was to go from Tegucigalpa to Managua to continue talks on the withdrawal proposals. It was expected that a four-day truce, which expires today, would be extended since it was not believed the talks on troop withdrawals could be completed today.

U.S. Lt. Col. Frank Brinn made an OAS-directed inspection trip to the town of Los Manos, where Honduras charged Nicaraguan troops had laid down a mortar barrage Tuesday. He reported he found no shell fragments, bullet holes or other "obvious evidence" of attack.

In Managua, Col. Anastasio Somoza Jr., Nicaraguan army chief, charged that Honduran irregulars were looting ranches in the border regions.

Scout Council Holds Planning Conference

The Lake of the Ozarks Council, BSA, planning conference was held Tuesday night at the East Broadway Christian Church. After an excellent meal, the men grouped themselves by committees; camping and activities, finance, health and safety, organization, advancement and commissioner staff. These groups correlated last year's results with achievements so far this year, current and probable events, and made recommendations and goals for 1958. The goals will be sent to Council members and will be approved or amended at the next board meeting. Both objectives and the program to meet the objectives next year were covered.

Council President Ed Ward of Lake Ozark conducted the general sessions. Julius Stohr was in charge of health and safety; Duane Funnell presided at the organization and extension group in the absence of T. R. Snow. Other district personnel present were C. A. Phillips, Frank Bair, Abe Silverman, William Hiatt Jr., E. L. Meyers, James Hobby and Oscar DeWolf. Thirty-eight men, representing almost the entire Council, were present.

After the plans are approved they will be carried out through the

To Help Hold Technicians

Pay Increases Are Ordered For 350,000 Enlisted Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson has ordered pay boosts for 350,000 enlisted specialists. But they may not start getting the added cash until the first of next year.

Officials said it would take several months for the Army, Navy and Air Force to decide which of their technicians are eligible for pay increases ranging from $12 to $50 a month. The boosts would be limited to about 15 per cent of enlisted strength.

Wilson signed the pay increase order yesterday after receiving formally the report of a committee he had named to study the military pay structure.

The committee, headed by President Ralph Cordiner of the General Electric Co., also proposed a general overhaul of the military pay system with a view to weeding out the less capable personnel and encouraging the better men to remain in service.

Wilson took no action on this proposal, but said study of major recommendations of the Cordiner report would continue.

Besides the pay increases for enlisted technicians, Wilson adopted a recommendation for lump sum bonus payments to reserve officers who remain on active duty beyond their normal tours. This would become effective in the 1966 fiscal year starting July 1, 1959. Unlike the technician pay raise, the bonus plan requires congressional approval.

The major features of the Cordiner recommendations would cost an estimated 249 millions the first year. Those portions adopted so far by Wilson would account for only about one fifth of that amount.

The pay raise for technicians would cost about 49 millions the first year. Wilson said the reserve bonus plan would cost about $230,000 the first year and would rise to more than 5½ millions in the third year.

It Seemed Big

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy entered the newsroom of the Durham Morning Herald and asked to see the newspaper files of World War II.

"I've read about it in history books and I want to see how the newspapers wrote it," the lad explained.

A reporter showed him the files and said, "Let me know what you think of it."

An hour later the boy came out of the library, regarded the reporter accusingly and said, "I think you exaggerated it."

Famed Singer Ezio Pina Dies at 64

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Ezio Pina, 64-year-old retired musical comedy star and former Metropolitan Opera bass, died today at his home here after a stroke.

Death came at 2 a.m. His wife and children were at his bedside.

Pina's physician Dr. David H. Fogel said he "passed quietly in his sleep."

The doctor said death followed a stroke suffered here April 30, after which he "gradually went down hill."

Pina had suffered two heart attacks. One was at Vervia, Italy Aug. 26, 1956, which kept him in an Italian hospital for a short time. The second came at his home here last Dec. 3. He was in critical condition for about three weeks then at Greenwich, Conn., hospital.

In addition to the doctor, those at Pina's bedside when he died were his wife, the former Doris Leak; their two daughters, Clelia, 15, and Gloria, 6, and their son, Peter, 13.

The Pina career was a dazzling melange of popular triumph, artistic acclaim, exceptional versatility — and bewildering paradox.

He never thought of singing as a life work until 18 — an age when most opera fledglings have amassed a decade of sober study.

He had little training, could scarcely read a note — yet flawlessly sang 78 operatic roles to critical acclaim in the world's music capitals.

He rarely practiced, gave his voice no special care. But he also exhibited none of the opera star's customary temperament and tantrums.

After 25 years atop the opera world, he successfully made a difficult transition into popular music and became a matinee idol of Broadway musical comedy.

Dependable SS Class Has Monthly Meeting

The Dependable Sunday School Class of the Ottumwa Methodist Church met Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. B. Marcum. Mrs. A. G. Curmatt presided in the absence of the president. The devotionals were given by Mrs. C. R. Shy.

Refreshments were served to seven members and one guest, Mrs. S. M. Dowdy.

Johnson Says No Politics In Aid Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said today Democrats are not going to "play politics" in considering President Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

"We are going to prudently review that program and all of the other items in his spending budget and cut out every dime of it that is nonessential," said Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader.

"However, we want to maintain the security of the country just as much as the President does and we are not going to play politics on this issue."

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday the money that goes into foreign aid, State Department and information service activities is aimed at easing world tensions. He reiterated his belief there can be no "real cuts" in federal spending until such tensions are reduced.

Eisenhower originally proposed a $4,400,000,000 program of general foreign aid in the year beginning July 1. Subsequently, he suggested possibly lowering this amount by half a billion dollars.

This saving would come out of the $2,600,000,000 military air portion of the program.

Forest Fires Still Menace Northeast US

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Forest fires continued today to threaten parched woodlands of the nation's northeast area.

In Michigan, fire fighters kept an anxious eye on the state's tinder-dry sections after a winning fight over one of the worst timber blazes in years.

Thirty new fires broke out in New York state yesterday. Before that, the state's monthlong dry spell spawned nearly 350 blazes.

Massachusetts declared a state of emergency and Maine clamped restrictions on its forests last night as fires gutted thousands of woodland acres in those states. New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and New Jersey.

In Michigan, a 750-acre fire in the big Huron National Forest near Lake Huron was brought under control last night after a full half-day's battle by 400 persons.

In Maine a wind-whipped blaze roared through 3,200 acres of forest in Jackman last night. The fire isolated a sporting camp owner and his wife, but forestry officials expected to get them out.

A fire raging through Manchester, Mass., woodlands, threatening fashionable residences, appeared under control last night. Manchester is about 20 miles north of Boston.

Several homes were destroyed in the Plymouth-Carver area in southeastern Massachusetts.

In New York State, three houses and a barn were destroyed. A woman pleaded guilty to violating Gov. Averell Harriman's forest-closing order and was fined $75.

For a time yesterday the Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda, Mich., lay in the path of flaming timberland.

Coed Believes Loss of Role Was Helpful

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A 19-year-old coed removed from the lead in a University of Texas student opera because she is a Negro says the action may have been the best to insure harmonious integration at the school.

The coed, Barbara Louise Smith of Pittsburg, Tex., said Dean E. W. Doty of the College of Fine Arts told her she would not appear in the opera because complaints had been made about her having the role.

She was ousted from the production "Dido and Aeneas." State Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs said he had asked she be removed for the betterment of the university.

Two powerful campus groups—the Young Democrats and the Young Republicans — announced they were considering asking for an investigation.

In a signed story in today's Daily Texan, the university's student newspaper, Miss Smith quoted Doty as saying university President Logal Wilson made the decision "to insure my personal well-being. . . and . . . there was a possibility my appearance would precipitate a cut in the university's appropriation by the Legislature."

She said she was shocked by the action, but later "I began to realize that the ultimate success of integration at the university was much more important than my appearance at the opera."

"I believe they (Wilson and Doty) want the same things I do, and are working for superior education for Texas and are trying to achieve the most harmonious fulfillment of integration at the university."

"I have tried to put myself in Dr. Wilson's place and I believe that had I been in his position, I might have done what he did."

Wilson and Doty could not be reached for comment.

The university began accepting Negro students on the undergraduate level for the first time this year. Graduate classes have been integrated since 1950.

David Shapiro, president of the Young Democrats, said his group and the Young Republicans discussed a resolution asking the university student assembly to investigate.

Officers Inspect Sedalia C Battery

An inspection was held Wednesday night for C Battery of the 128th Field Artillery Battalion during the regular drill period. Inspecting officers informed Capt. Richard Dean that everything seemed to be in "ship shape."

The officers who made the inspection in preparation for the annual army inspection to be held May 10 were Lt. Col. Weatherby, Maj. C.C. Gage and CWO Donald Graue.

The ancestral home of Commodore Stephen Decatur still stands in Newport, R.I.

Cross Country Flights To Use New Airways; Two Are Ready Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—Planes flying across the country soon will be following 12 new super airways.

James T. Pyle, civil aeronautics administrator, said yesterday two of the airways are ready now and the other 10 will be completed in 18 months. A CAA spokesman said the idea is to simplify handling of nonstop flights. He said there now are 50 or more transcontinental air routes.

The system ultimately will link New York and Washington with San Francisco and Los Angeles. The super airways already equipped for use will run between New York and Los Angeles by way of Chicago, Omaha, Denver and Las Vegas, and between Washington and Los Angeles via

Woman Gets Payment According to Costs In Divorce Action

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. Hayne Ellis Jr., 47, got a divorce yesterday, plus a monthly allowance pegged to the cost of living index compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics in Washington.

Ellis, 42, is an officer of the International Paper Co. with an income estimated in his wife's divorce papers at $35,000 to $50,000 a year. She accused him of neglecting his marital duties. He denied her allegations but did not contest the divorce.

Judge Earl E. O'Connor ordered Ellis to put $1,300,000 worth of his International Paper stock into a trust fund. From its earnings, Mrs. Ellis will get a monthly payment based on the cost of living index—in no case less than $1,000 a month. He can keep the remainder. If she remarries the trust is dissolved.

The court also awarded her another $25,000 and a station wagon. Ellis keeps the family home in Mission Hills, a high-toned Kansas City suburb.

Keep Vigilant Eye On Michigan Forests After Timber Blaze

DETROIT (AP)—Fire wardens and woodsmen kept a vigilant eye on Michigan's northern forests today after winning a fight with one of the worst timber blazes in years.

The woods were still dry, lacking any material rainfall, and fire hazards existed almost everywhere.

A 750-acre fire in the big Huron National Forest near Lake Huron was brought under control Wednesday night after a full half-day's battle by 400 persons.

For a time there had been some fear that the fire, a "crown" blaze that raced through treetops, might have reached inhabited areas. However, this did not happen.

The fire for a time threatened Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda, which sent a contingent to help fight it.

Ireland was the object of the earliest Viking raids, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

NAACP Hears Of Injunction Limitations

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People was free to operate in Texas today for the first time since last fall, but only under the strict limitations of a permanent injunction imposed against the organization yesterday.

State Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan issued the permanent injunction and specified the terms under which the NAACP can operate in Texas. NAACP attorneys said they would appeal the decision.

The limitations prohibit the NAACP from practicing law in Texas; encouraging, instigating or financing law suits in which it does not have a direct interest and soliciting or having others solicit law suits.

Former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd filed suit against the NAACP last fall, charging among other things, that it had solicited lawsuits in integration cases in violation of state laws.

The injunction also directed the NAACP to refrain from engaging in political or lobbying activities in violation of state laws and ordered the organization to pay franchise taxes. The state also had alleged the NAACP owed the franchise taxes because it was a foreign corporation and had made a profit although chartered in Texas as a nonprofit organization.

Following lengthy hearings last fall, the NAACP was placed under a temporary injunction which had prohibited any operations in Texas. The hearing that ended yesterday was on the state's motion to make the temporary injunction permanent.

"I am delighted the court sustained the charges we made in the injunction," said Shepperd, when informed of the action. "It looks as though we got everything we asked for except the permanent ouster because of the illegal activities (in which) the NAACP has engaged in the past."

Judge Dunagan ordered the NAACP to pay all accrued franchise taxes plus penalties and interest within 30 days after the state determines the amount owed, which officials said could not be figured until the organization files reports on its size and income.

Russia Tells Japan It Is Ready to Agree On Nuclear Test Ban

TOKYO (AP)—Russia told Japan today it is ready to agree with the United States and Britain on ending nuclear tests. The Soviets asked Japan to join them in urging a ban on the West.

Soviet Ambassador Ivan F. Tevosyan delivered the Kremlin proposal in a 15-minute meeting with Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi. The Russian proposal replied to a Japanese request April 15 for suspension of Soviet nuclear weapon tests.

Kishi promised to study the proposal. He said in a speech last week, however, that Japan would not be interested in joining Moscow in an appeal to Britain and America until "after the Soviet Union ends its nuclear tests."

"As long as Britain and America continue testing weapons, then we must continue also," Tevosyan told Kishi.

UN Secretary Arrives For Two Days of Talks With Israel Leader

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld arrived today for two days of talks with Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion on Arab-Israeli conflicts.

It is Hammarskjöld's first visit to Israel since last autumn's Sinai invasion.

It was thought here the secretary general would seek to revive the 1949 Egyptian-Israeli armistice, which Ben-Gurion says is "dead." Ben-Gurion in turn wants Hammarskjöld to press Egypt to end its state of belligerency against Israel.

Israeli government informants said there is no hope of bringing the old armistice agreement back to life unless some headway is made in getting Egypt to renounce its claim of belligerent rights. Egypt uses the belligerency claim to prevent Israeli ships from using the Suez Canal.

Hammarskjöld told reporters at Lydda Airport he had nothing to say other than "I am glad to be received by the Israel government." U. N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche accompanied his chief.

Oldest newspaper on record is the Strasbourg Relation, published in Germany during 1609.

Couple Tours US Capital, Sees Festival

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Bridges have returned to their home in Syracuse after a five week visit with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Van Bridges and sons, Michael and David Austin, Arlington, Va.

While there they toured the Capitol, White House, visited George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Lincoln and World War II Memorials.

They attended the annual Japanese Cherry Blossom Festival and saw many Japanese people dressed in their native attire. The cherry trees were a gift to the United States from the Japanese government and are planted around Tidal Basin.

They took a guided tour of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing which employs over 5,000, the treasury department and the National Gallery of Art. The Art Gallery is constructed of marble from Vermont and Tennessee with the large dark green marble columns shipped from Italy. The building, a gift from A. W. Mellon, cost over $15,000. Another interesting place visited was the Botanical Gardens, with plants and shrubs from many foreign countries.

They toured the Pentagon building which houses all branches of military government and that of 17 foreign countries. There are over 32,000 people employed in the building. They also visited Mt. Vernon, home of George Washington.

Col. K. B. Huff accompanied them to Arlington Memorial Amphitheatre for Easter Sunrise services and they witnessed the placing of a cross of lily of the valley at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. They also visited General Lee's mansion in Arlington National Cemetery.

While there they also saw a ball game between the Washington Senators and Boston Red Sox. They traveled via plane from St. Louis to Washington, D. C. and one of their biggest thrills was going into the cockpit of the plane to watch the pilot operate the plane. The pilot was a friend of their son.

Negro Pastor Resigns Post In White Church

OLD MYSTIC, Conn. (AP)—The Negro pastor of the all-white Old Mystic Methodist Church is resigning.

The Rev. Simon Peter Montgomery said last night he has told his church's pastoral relations committee to look for a successor.

He declined to say why he was resigning—as of June 23.

He said, however, that in January he was offered an executive post with a national student movement but turned it down because his church was in debt.

He said the church now is solvent, after having undergone a $6,500 improvement program since he became pastor in September 1955.

"I am the happiest man in the world that the church is out of debt," he said.

The 34-year-old minister said he is now writing a book on religion and plans to teach at the Northern New England School of Religious Education in August.

The Rev. Harvey K. Mousley, superintendent of the Norwich District Methodist Conference, declined to comment on the resignation.

While the Rev. Mr. Montgomery has been pastor here, the congregation of the church has doubled—to about 70 members.

He is also chaplain of the State House of Representatives—the first Negro ever to hold such a post in Connecticut's Legislature.

Cuban Government Announces Capture Of Top Rebel Leader

HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban government today announced the capture of rebel leader Fidel Castro's second in command.

The military intelligence service said Carlos Iglesia Fonesca had been arrested in Santiago along with a lieutenant, Rodolfo Rodriguez Fernandez. They were reported brought to Havana.

Castro, a former student leader who had been in exile in Mexico, has been leading an antigovernment guerrilla band in the mountains of southeast Cuba.

President Fulgencio Batista's government has repeatedly claimed the rebels have been overcome, but it has not yet been able to produce Castro or any evidence that he has left Cuba.

Not Enough Light

RIDGEFIELD, N. J. (AP)—An 18-year-old motorist offered an illuminating explanation in Municipal Court here last night for having a passenger perched on a front fender of his moving car.

D. A. Abbatiello said his headlights had blown and that the outdoor passenger was holding two flashlights in his hands.

Magistrate Martin J. Commins was not impressed. He fined the youth for careless driving.

JOB WITH A FUTURE—After more than a decade as a teacher and scholar, Charles S. Wehrer, 42, above, resigned as superintendent of schools in Shandon, Calif., to become an apprentice truck driver. Wehrer, who admits he is not yet a good warehouseman or truck driver, said his $6,600 per year teaching salary left him in debt and that his new career, with drivers earning up to $15,000 annually, offered more of a future.

Says Conduct Is Not Mark Of Christians

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP)—Do Christians distinguish themselves by their conduct?

Not much, a church leader said today.

This appraisal of the effect of Christianity on morals was given for a meeting of the U.S. Conference of the World Council of Churches.

The Rev. Dr. D. T. Niles of Ceylon, executive secretary of the council's Evangelism Department said:

"The performance of the Christian community in moral and religious living shows little superiority over that of other religions."

The assessment was prepared for a discussion of the motives for evangelism—seeking to make people Christians.

Dr. Niles, a Methodist, said the basic understanding of this motive has changed.

"In the early years of the modern missionary movement, this urgency was stated in the terms of the certainty that those who had not accepted Jesus as Savior would be damned," he said. "This way of stating it is not

Los Angeles Oil Man Scoffs at Speculation On $10 Million Loan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley, Los Angeles oil man and Democratic party leader, said last night he has negotiated a 10-million-dollar loan from the First National Bank of Chicago "for general purposes."

Pauley laughed at speculation the loan might have some connection with transferring a major league baseball franchise to Los Angeles and San Francisco.

impossible for most people."

He said the transition to being only concerned with "the fact that people are living without Christ" instead of being concerned only with the prospect of "dying without Christ" also has not shown much fruit.

He said that the driving impulse for bringing people to Christianity is "because we are in Christ." Christians don't work to bring others to the faith because it is a job assigned to them, but they work "with the Lord because he is already within them," he continued.

Canadian Air Ends Warm Spell

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cool Canadian air spread across north central sections of the country today, ending a brief spell of summerlike weather, but it was mild and clear in most of the nation's eastern quarter.

There were many areas of precipitation in the West as well as in the cool belt, while stormy weather hit sections of Texas.

The chilly air moved rapidly southward across the north central region yesterday, bringing showers and thundershowers with the collision with warm air. Heaviest rainfall, up to nearly 2 inches, was in southwestern Nebraska. Moderate to heavy amounts fell in parts of the northern Great Lakes region.

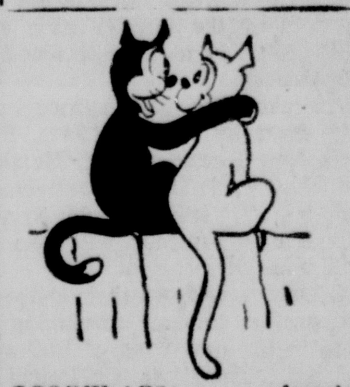

Light showers sprinkled areas from the cool belt westward through the northern and central Rockies to Washington, Oregon and northern California.

The cool belt extended from Montana through Wisconsin and was expected to move during the day into Lower Michigan and as far south as northern Kansas and Missouri. Temperatures were mostly in the 40s as compared to the 60s yesterday morning.

Widely scattered showers and thundershowers also hit areas from Louisiana and Texas into southeast Kansas.

Controversial Measures Pass State Senate

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri State Senate got over the hump on some big controversies yesterday.

In a long and sometimes heated afternoon session the Senate:

Advanced a bill to make trucks over 60,000 pounds pay $100 more for over the road operations and $35 more for local hauling. In a final flare of opposition, critics of the "big truck" bill passed earlier said the fee increase was not enough but would be better than nothing.

Passed and sent to the governor a bill to clear the way for setting up small watershed protection districts within existing soil conservation districts. The districts could use federal grants to build water control structures and levy a mill tax on the landowners to maintain them.

Revived and passed a controversial bill to let the cities of St. Louis and Kansas City operate cocktail lounges in their out of town airport terminals. The vote sending it to the House after a long battle was 18-12, not a single vote to spare.

Also sent to the House was proposed constitutional amendment to let new residents vote for president and vice president after living in Missouri only 60 days. The present requirement is one year.

In a long string of Senate bills sent to the House was one to raise the pay of Probation and Parole Board members and let the board move its offices outside the State Penitentiary.

Dalton Rules County Group Cannot Reduce Tax Below Set Level

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A county board of equalization cannot reduce assessed valuations to a point below the level fixed by the State Tax Commission, Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton held today.

Dalton's opinion, St. Francis by David L. Colson, St. Francis County prosecuting attorney.

Dalton said while the county board has the power to equalize valuations and assessments on all taxable real and personal property within the county, it could not reduce valuations in the county below the value set by the State Tax Commission.

In another opinion released today, the attorney general held that the board of trustees of a county is in complete charge of the hospital.

The opinion was requested by Edward C. Westhouse, Madison County prosecuting attorney, who wanted to know if the board of trustees is authorized to employ an architect to draw plans for such a hospital.

House Committee Approves US Aid To Schools Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Education Committee approved today a freshly pruned 14-billion-dollar program of federal aid to the states for school construction.

The vote was 20-9. Backers hoped that the reduced amount would lessen opposition to the bill in congress.

It calls for a five-year program of 300 million dollars a year in grants, to be matched by the states, to help build needed classrooms.

Recognizing the talk of economy in Washington these days, the committee voted 23-3 yesterday to cut 500 million dollars off the two billion dollar program recommended by a subcommittee.

Rep. Bailey (D-WVa.), chairman of that subcommittee, told a reporter he had no doubt that the cut in the bill "helped it at the White House" and bettered its chances in Congress.

Bailey said he went along with the cut "in order to preserve harmony and go out on the floor with a united front."

Farmers Endanger Soil Bank Agreement With Corn Mixtures

It has been reported that some sections of the county in farm operators are planning to mix corn and sorgo, or kafir, thinking that such a mixture, will not be considered as corn for price support or soil bank purposes. This plan is entirely wrong, says Carl E. Johnson, office manager of the Pettis County ASC office and can only result in a violation of the corn soil bank agreement, in case the total amount of planted corn plus such mixture is greater than the amount permitted for harvest as shown on the agreement.

Each operator who has signed a corn acreage reserve agreement has recently received a copy of his agreement in the mail. Item 6, Part I, near the top of the page gives the "Maximum Acres for Harvest." Each farm operator should give this careful consideration before planting, says Johnson.

The local ASC Office will make every effort possible to answer any questions.

The subcommittee is particularly interested in citizens' testimony about the U. S. foreign aid program.

Woman, Husband Pioneered Missouri College for Women

Pioneers in education for women, this Missouri teacher and her husband opened at St. Charles a private elementary school for girls which developed through successive reorganization into a seminary, a junior college, and a four-year college for women, the only Protestant senior college for women in Missouri. Do you know her name?

1. What was her background?
A. Born in New York in 1800, at the age of three she came with her family to St. Louis, where her father, Rufus Easton, was prominent in Missouri's territorial history. When 13 years old she traveled to Washington, D. C., on horseback and then by boat to Shelbyville, Ky., where she attended a seminary for girls.

Cofounder of Lindenwood College

2. Where did she make her home after her marriage?

A. She was married in St. Louis in 1815 to the government Indian agent stationed at Fort Osage in what is now Jackson County. The following spring her husband transported his bride and her piano with drum, fife, and horn attachment, her books, her saddle horse, and needed furniture, in a month's keelboat journey up the river from St. Charles to their newly-built wilderness home.

3. How did she adjust to life in the wilderness?

A. With hospitality her first consideration, she made her home a model of pioneer taste and elegance in the wild environment. It was picturesquely described by such noted visitors to the West as Brackenridge, Prince Maximilian, and Audubon.

Her husband wrote in 1816, "You may be sure Mary is a great favorite with the Indians, indeed they literally idolize her since they have heard her play."

4. When did she become interested in education for women?

A. Soon, she began to teach her sister, who visited her at Fort Osage, and the Indian girls. From this experience, she and her husband became interested in founding a girls' school. They moved to St. Charles in 1826 and the next year opened a school in their home. Lindenwood College dates its founding from this school. In 1828, they selected a site in the forest of Linden trees overlooking the Missouri River which they named Linden Wood and in 1831 erected there the first school building.

5. What were her further contributions to the college?

A. Affectionately known to students as "Aunt Mary", her faith in her cherished project never faltered. She went East and raised $4,000 among friends for the school in the 1840's and she remained undaunted when the college declined during the Civil War. Hoping to expand the school, she and her husband deeded the 120 acres of college land in 1853 to college trustees appointed by the Presbytery of St. Louis and a charter was obtained from the State Legislature for Lindenwood Female College. The founders stipulated that the college was to be non-sectarian, although religion was to occupy a prominent place.

She took an active interest in the college until her death occurred at Lindenwood in 1878. In 1870, control of the college was placed under the Presbyterian Synod of Missouri, U.S.A. In 1913, the college was accredited as a junior college and in 1917, was a four-year college for women.

6. How is her memory honored?
A. A hall, erected at Lindenwood in 1856 and later remodeled, is named for her and her husband; a monument over her grave in the cemetery on the college grounds was erected by friends; and her organ, together with her library, are preserved in the college museum.

7. What was her name?
A. Mary Easton Sibley (Mrs. George Champlain Sibley).

Announce The Agreement Made in Bonn

BONN (AP)—British Prime Minister Macmillan and West German Chancellor Adenauer announced today they are "in full agreement on the main aims of their policies."

A communique issued after two days of talks here made no mention of differences still existing over Britain's plans to cut her forces in Germany. But a diplomatic source said the two government chiefs had moved "much closer together" on the question after starting out "miles apart."

Apparently the West Germans still hope to get a modification of the British plan. The communique said West German Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss will visit London soon to "discuss defense questions of mutual interest."

It also said Macmillan and Adenauer had agreed on the "need for NATO to retain an effective deterrent against aggression, including an adequate shield of land, sea and air forces for the protection of the territory of the member states."

The question apparently was what constitutes an "adequate shield."

Britain already has started carrying out its plan for withdrawing nearly 30,000 men from its army in Germany and trimming the supporting tactical air force by nearly half. The move resulted from Britain's desire to reduce defense expenditures and at the same time streamline its forces for the nuclear age.

Adenauer urged a halt to any more troop withdrawals until NATO makes a detailed review of the European defense position. One top German military planner insisted that what is wanted on Germany's attack-vulnerable northern plain is manpower now and not atomic weapons in the future.

Extends Storage Loan Programs Another Year

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has extended the farm storage facility and farm storage equipment loan programs for another year, through June 30, 1958, according to Joe A. Grant, state administrative officer of the Missouri State ASC.

These loans are to help farmers obtain needed farm storage. Under these programs farmers can borrow a large part of the cost of additional farm storage space and drying equipment for grains and seeds.

Any farm owner-operator, share tenant, share landlord, or producer partnership can take part in the programs. They can apply for a loan at their county ASC office. The loan can be made either directly through the county office or through a local bank.

Missouri farmers can get loans on storage facilities for wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, soybeans, grain sorghums, rice, cottonseed, and winter cover crop seeds.

Farmers can borrow up to 80 per cent of the cost of the new storage bins, cribs, or other approved storage structures. These structures must meet requirements for storage under the price-support program. Producers can pay off the loan over a four-year period, and interest is 4 per cent per year.

Since this program began and through the end of February, about 86,804 loans had been made throughout the nation, covering structures with a capacity of about 315 million bushels.

Under the storage equipment loan program, farmers can borrow up to 75 per cent of the cost of equipment to keep stored grain in proper condition. This equipment includes mobile mechanical dryers, air circulators, ventilators, tunnels, and fans. These loans are payable in three annual installments, at 4 per cent interest.

Grant said that the continuation of the storage facility loan program will help farmers to more readily finance additional storage during the coming crop year.

Local Students Exhibit Work At Exhibition

When the 30th National High School Art Exhibition opens May 10 at Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, under the auspices of Scholastic Magazines, Carol Savage and Anne Uhr, both of Smith-Cotton High School, Sedalia, are represented in each with a transparent water color painting. These works were first shown at the regional show sponsored by Emery, Bird, Thayer Co., Kansas City.

Extending from May 10 through June 2, the exhibition is the climax of the Scholastic Magazines Art Awards school-year program, with preliminary regional shows held in 35 areas earlier this year. Forwarded to Pittsburgh for national judging were those entries which had previously been awarded gold achievement keys.

The 530 outstanding pieces in the national show received cash awards totaling $20,000, donated chiefly by leading concerns in the art industry who served as national co-sponsors with Scholastic Magazines. Topping the awards this year were the 40 coveted Hallmark Honor Prizes of $100 each for the best work in pictorial art. In addition, 100 seniors won tuition scholarships in the basis of their submitted portfolios, and a certificate of merit went to each student placing in the show.

Students submitted about 175,000 entries for Scholastic Art Awards this year from all 48 states and territories. About 35,000 pieces won places in regional exhibitions. Of these, 1,400 entries have won places in the national show, representing 26 classifications in pictorial art, graphic art, commercial art, design, sculpture, and crafts.

House Group Opens Hearings On Poultry

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Small Business subcommittee on food industries opens hearings today into problems of the poultry industry.

Rep. Brown (D-Mo.), subcommittee chairman, said "there are indications that everyone connected with the poultry industry" is losing money "except a few giant hatcheries and feed manufacturers."

"If this is true," Brown said, "we hope to learn how these few big companies arrange to be prosperous when so many small businesses in the same industry are going bankrupt right and left."

Brown said "we might expect to get the whole story on captive markets, sharecropping and market glutting."

"Where has the money come from for all this production expansion?" he asked. "How is credit so plentiful for the big companies in times of tight money? What are the prospects for decent poultry and egg prices in the near future?"

"When we get the whole story, we'll sit down and figure out what the government might do to help bring some order out of this chaos."

The distinction between a cathedral and a church is that any building used for worship is called a church, where the word cathedral comes from the Latin "cathedra," which means the official throne of a bishop. Thus, a cathedral technically is the bishop's church.

Script Writers Step Lightly With Villains

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—An interesting change was made in the script of "Flesh and Blood," starring Victor Jory and Tommy Sands, on Television Theatre (NBC-TV) last night.

The first announcement of the drama by Anthony Spinner last month identified the principal character as a wealthy American gangster named Frankie who returned to his native Italy. In the final version the gangster's name was Franz and the scene was changed from Italy to Austria.

At first glance it might appear that somebody was afraid of annoying some wealthy American gangster living in Italy. But the truth is you cannot annoy any wealthy American gangster living in Italy. You can, however, annoy innumerable Americans of Italian descent by casting one of their native countrymen in an unfavorable light. (There are relatively few Americans of Austrian descent.)

About a year ago I wrote a column complaining that we were seeing too many Italian villains on television. I'm sure that I personally had nothing to do with the change, but I don't recall when I've seen a villain of Italian descent on the home screen. I urged a fair proportion of Italian villains—not NO villains.

The same timidity is displayed in casting other ethnic, regional, professional and business groups. It's getting terribly difficult to cast a villain. The safest way not to offend anyone is to make a villain an Iron Curtain Communist. It must be a great trial for the scrip writers—and it's becoming a trial for some of us viewers.

Villainy on television is gradually sinking behind the Iron Curtain and into the hills and draws of the far west in the 19th century. The medium is even becoming sensitive about mentioning countries.

Now here's an idea that might help everyone out. Let's invent a country. Call it Grudo. Locate it anywhere that is nowhere that will offend anyone. Television could use it as a pool for its villains. They won't offend anyone.

If this idea is unacceptable, there's only one thing left to do. Let the villains be television columnists in any and all kinds of situations that anyone might conceive. A name? Use mine. I won't sue.

US Court of Appeals Rules Can Be Fired For Conduct at Party

BOSTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has ruled that a man can be fired for calling the boss names, fighting with a fellow employee and playfully pinching one of the girls at a Christmas party. The court yesterday affirmed the judgment of the federal court of Puerto Rico which ruled there was no breach of contract when the Long Construction Co. of San Juan fired Robert E. Johnson, Indianapolis, in January, 1948.

Johnson had sought $150,000 in damages. Testimony was introduced that Johnson called the boss names, fought with another worker and pinched a girl at an office Christmas party in 1947. He was fired for that.

Navy Lands Unusual Catch While Fishing

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Interservice cooperation landed an unusual catch from a fishing pier here yesterday.

Maj. Joe S. Tubbs of Ft. Story and Lt. (jg) R. R. Cathcart of the Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base were fishing when a loon grabbed the bait and snarled both lines.

The bird was hauled in and released. After all, birds are out of season — especially where a fishing license is involved.

Pitcher Herb Score Awaits Decision on Injury to Eye

CLEVELAND (AP)—In a darkened hospital room without visitors pitcher Herb Score waited out the hours today. He knew he would have some sight in his injured right eye. But would it be enough to continue a brilliant baseball career?

Thousands of baseball fans everywhere hope and pray with him. Phone calls about him light up the Lakeside Hospital switchboard every few seconds. Telegrams and mail are flooding in to the Cleveland Indians' strike-out king.

Tell everyone thanks, the south-paw says.

The waiting will go on through today and at least part of tomorrow. Dr. Charles Thomas, eye specialist, has indicated. Extensive bleeding started Tuesday

Tigers Place Third in CMC Track Finale

The Smith-Cotton Tigers ended the 1957 track season not as bad as was anticipated. The Tigers placed third in the annual Central Missouri Conference track meet held in Columbia, which was won by the Jefferson City Jays. Columbia's Hickman Kewpies placed second.

Jefferson City scored 86 points; Columbia tallied 68 1-3; Sedalia Smith-Cotton 36 1-3; Mexico 25 1-3; Hannibal 24, and Kemper 23 5-6.

Bob Welch placed first in pole vault for the Tigers, going over the bar at 11 feet and James Murray was second for Smith-Cotton in that event.

Ed Hall of Sedalia placed first in the shot put, with a distance of 48 feet 5 1/2 inches, while Larry Poynter of S-C was fourth. Hall was also second in the discus.

Bob Spraggins was fourth in the high jump and Wayne Brown was fifth in the 440-yard dash for the Tigers. The Tiger relay team placed fifth in the 880-yard relay.

Hornets Defeat Smith-Cotton Wednesday, 13-0

North Kansas City backed up the 4-hit pitching of Carl Summers with a 13-hit attack good for the same number of runs to wallop Sedalia Smith-Cotton, 13-0, in a district baseball tournament game on the Hornet field yesterday.

The Hornets unloaded home runs by John Willman and Bob Haynes in a 3-run sixth inning. Willman's smash came with one mate aboard and Haynes clouted a grand slammer to deep center.

The Hornets now meet the winner of the district tournament at Joplin with the winner of that game gaining a berth in the state finals in St. Louis.

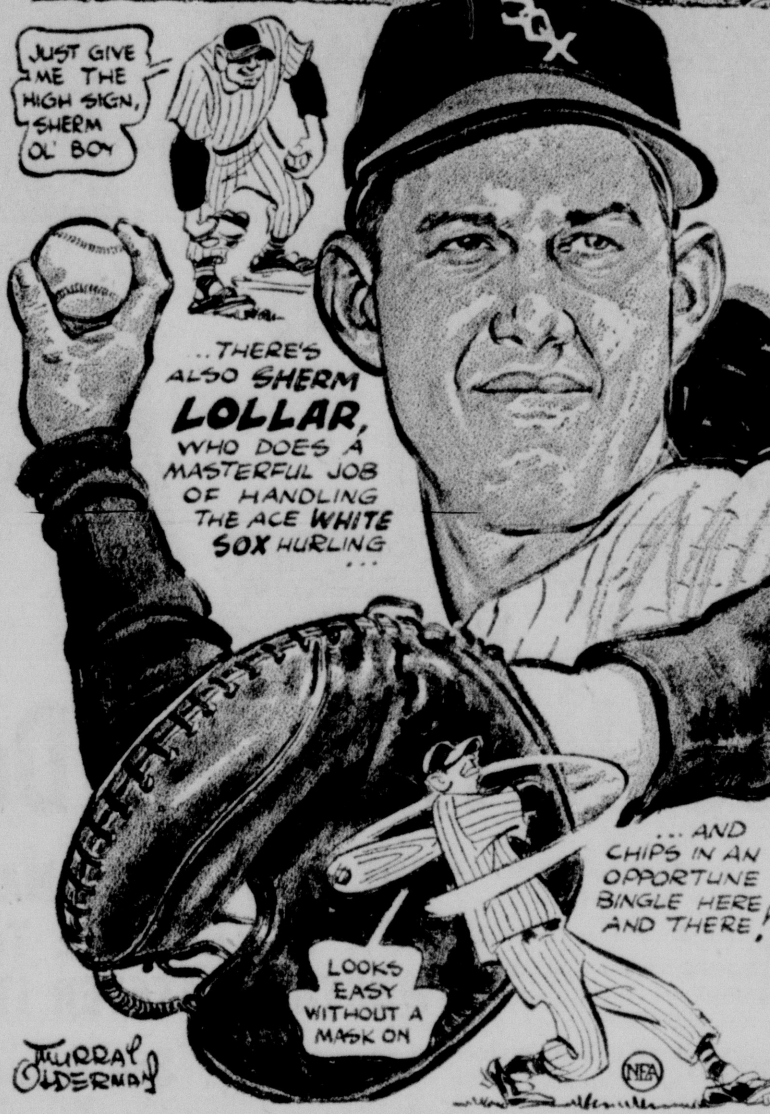

Sedalia 000 000 0-4 4 3 North K.C. 003 028 x-13 13 2 Nicholas, Wilhelm (5) and Newman; Summers and Sarver.

Eastern League Pilots Complete WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Three former major league players—Steve Souchock at Binghamton, Jo Jo White at Reading and Mike McCormick at Springfield, Mass.—are managing in the Eastern League this season. The other league pilots are Dick Carter at Schenectady, Eddie Popowski at Albany and Frank Calo at Syracuse. Calo will do some catching for the Syracuse team.

HEAVEN HELP HIM—With the complete sympathy of his caddy, Harvie Ward, Jr., dropped his putter and looked imploringly toward the heavens after missing a 15-foot putt in the Colonial National Invitation in Fort Worth. The United States amateur champion's 287 tied for fourth.

Three Homers, Four Runs

Ted Williams Proves Again He's 'Mr. Big' of Red Sox

The Associated Press

Love him, despise him... cheer him, boo him... but no real baseball fan can ignore Ted Williams... nor the fact that "The Kid," after 18 years, is still "Mr. Big" of the Boston Red Sox.

Williams has been the heart and soul of the Red Sox attack ever since he joined them in 1939. But not since 1946, when he led the team to its only pennant in 38 years—and won the league's most valuable player award to boot—has he demonstrated his importance to the Sox cause as he has this season.

Yesterday was a typical example when Ted smashed three home runs and drove in all the runs as the Red Sox trounced the Chicago White Sox 4-1 for their fourth straight. The victory boosted Boston to within 11 percentage points of second and only a half game from the American League leading New York Yankees who dropped a 10-4 decision to Cleveland.

Ted's value to the Red Sox is best illustrated by the team's record. In the 18 games that Williams has appeared in—the lineup of the team has won 11. In the four he did not, the team lost three.

Another red hot team, the Cincinnati Reds, stretched their winning streak to nine with a 7-6 triumph over Brooklyn. A grand slam home by sizzling Don Hoak and a pair of four-baggers by substitute first baseman George Crowe furnished all the runs and gave the Reds their first Eastern sweep since the pennant winning 1940 team.

The Reds' second straight in Ebbets Field zoomed them into second place, a half game behind the front-running Milwaukee Braves who bowed 2-1 to the Philadelphia Phillies. Rookie Don Cardwell was responsible for a Braves' third straight loss with a seven-hitter.

The St. Louis Cardinals pounded four New York pitchers for 19 hits to defeat Johnny Antonelli and the Giants 13-4 while the Chicago Cubs pushed Pittsburgh deeper into the National League basement with a 7-1 victory over the Pirates.

Cleveland battered four Yankee pitchers for 13 hits against their second straight success against the world champions. Early Wynn, supported by three-run homers off the bats of Vic Wertz and Gene Woodling and a two-run blast by rookie Roger Maris, earned his third victory.

Detroit inflicted the tenth straight loss upon Washington, drubbing the Senators 11-3 for its sixth success in the last seven games. Baltimore shellacked Kansas City 11-2 behind a 13-hit attack that included home runs by Billy Gardner and Gus Triandos.

Williams' explosive bat coupled with Frank Sullivan's four-hitter contrived to hand the fifth straight defeat upon the White Sox. Chicago pitchers were able to retire Williams only once to end his streak of reaching base 11 successive times, five on hits and six on walks.

Hoak's grand slammer, in the eighth, came off loser Don Newcombe, and snapped a 3-3 tie with Brooklyn. The victory went to Warren Hacker, who had lost eight straight times to the Dodgers since July 19, 1954.

He should not let it disturb his playing. I've hit players with batted balls and I've been hit myself plenty of times. It may shake you up but you can't let it get you down. You certainly don't mean to hit anybody—it's an accident, just like walking out in the street and getting run over.

"Gil is improving as a player every year and is off to a fine start this time. He must remember that such an accident could happen to anybody. He shouldn't let it interfere with his playing."

Williams' "Mr. Big" of Red Sox title is well deserved. He has been the heart and soul of the team since 1939. But not since 1946, when he led the team to its only pennant in 38 years—and won the league's most valuable player award to boot—has he demonstrated his importance to the Sox cause as he has this season.

Yesterday was a typical example when Ted smashed three home runs and drove in all the runs as the Red Sox trounced the Chicago White Sox 4-1 for their fourth straight. The victory boosted Boston to within 11 percentage points of second and only a half game from the American League leading New York Yankees who dropped a 10-4 decision to Cleveland.

Ted's value to the Red Sox is best illustrated by the team's record. In the 18 games that Williams has appeared in—the lineup of the team has won 11. In the four he did not, the team lost three.

Another red hot team, the Cincinnati Reds, stretched their winning streak to nine with a 7-6 triumph over Brooklyn. A grand slam home by sizzling Don Hoak and a pair of four-baggers by substitute first baseman George Crowe furnished all the runs and gave the Reds their first Eastern sweep since the pennant winning 1940 team.

The Reds' second straight in Ebbets Field zoomed them into second place, a half game behind the front-running Milwaukee Braves who bowed 2-1 to the Philadelphia Phillies. Rookie Don Cardwell was responsible for a Braves' third straight loss with a seven-hitter.

The St. Louis Cardinals pounded four New York pitchers for 19 hits to defeat Johnny Antonelli and the Giants 13-4 while the Chicago Cubs pushed Pittsburgh deeper into the National League basement with a 7-1 victory over the Pirates.

Cleveland battered four Yankee pitchers for 13 hits against their second straight success against the world champions. Early Wynn, supported by three-run homers off the bats of Vic Wertz and Gene Woodling and a two-run blast by rookie Roger Maris, earned his third victory.

Detroit inflicted the tenth straight loss upon Washington, drubbing the Senators 11-3 for its sixth success in the last seven games. Baltimore shellacked Kansas City 11-2 behind a 13-hit attack that included home runs by Billy Gardner and Gus Triandos.

McLeod May Be Confirmed Over Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate set the stage today for confirmation of Scott McLeod's nomination as ambassador to Ireland over the protest of a sizable number of its Democrats.

The key vote came last night when the Senate rejected 54-22 a motion to return the nomination to its Foreign Relations Committee for further investigation.

Chairman Green (D-RI) of that committee said there were "hundreds," perhaps "thousands," of Americans better qualified for the post than the controversial State Department security chief.

Sen. Clark (D-Pa.) called him a "symbol of the witch hunter" who would bring discredit upon the country in his new post.

But Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) said President Eisenhower has "full confidence" in his nominee. And Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said he was the target of a "smear campaign" by left-wingers.

Just before recess last night, 15 Democrats joined with 39 Republicans—the GOP was unanimous—in rejecting the motion to recommit the nomination.

Twenty-two Democrats, some of whom spent most of yesterday assailing the nomination, supported the motion.

Their defeat meant the fight was all over but the repercussions.

Earlier yesterday the Senate approved Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen's nomination as ambassador to the Philippines, by a voice vote, with Bridges shouting "No."

Nino Valdes Supports Claim for Ranking By Win Over Holman

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Nino Valdes, who has been demanding a higher ranking among heavyweights, backed his claim with a body-thumping victory over Johnny Holman of Chicago in a 10-round televised fight last night.

Valdes, 209-pound Cuban, banged away relentlessly with hooks to the 204-pound Holman's mid-section, and appeared to have Holman groggy in the eighth round, when he switched his aim to the head.

The decision by the referee and two judges was unanimous for Valdes, currently ranked ninth, Holman, formerly among the top 10, is unranked.

More Training

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Dr. Harlie L. Smith, president of the Board of Higher Education of the Disciples of Christ (Christian Church) says it's "imperative" that ministers have an adequate educational background.

Speaking to the recent Middle's Conference of the Disciples of Christ, Dr. Smith listed seven years of college preparation, four years of undergraduate training and three years of graduate seminary study as the minimum requirement.

He also said that too many young people who choose the ministry drop out of training. Of 400, he said, 200 get to college, 100 graduate still in a church vocation, 60 go on to seminary and 54 graduate into the ministry.

To Hear Arguments On Antitrust Laws For Pro Athletics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Celler (D-NY) said today a House Judiciary Subcommittee will hear arguments in June for and against applying the antitrust laws to professional sports.

The antitrust subcommittee has before it a variety of bills, largely inspired by the Supreme Court's action in declaring professional football subject to the antitrust statutes, although professional baseball is not.

Founded in 1706 by Francisco Cuervo de Valdez, Albuquerque, New Mexico, was named by him for the Viceroy of Spain, Duque de Albuquerque.

There is evidence that polo was played many centuries ago in China, Japan, Persia, and Tibet, but it reached England about 1860 by way of a border tribe in India.

American Business Women Honor Bosses at Meeting

"Bosses Night," an annual event when members of the American Business Women's Association honor their bosses, was held at a dinner meeting Tuesday night at Bothwell Hotel.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Thomas W. Croxton, who took for his subject, "Why We're Here." First he considered the bosses and why they went into the business they are in. Some, perhaps, he said, felt it was a good way to make a living, another might have followed it because that was his father's business and still another just got into it and felt he had to continue it. Employees are about the same—some might just have needed to make a living, some chose that kind of work because they liked it, and some don't like anything about the job and are only waiting to get into something else. Too often, Dr. Croxton said, employees complain about conditions, the boss doesn't show any appreciation, never think of giving a raise or do anything to make things better.

People, he said, should put more of themselves into whatever they are doing. If each, the employee and the employer, would consider more the needs of each other, put more into the things they are doing, give greater contributions, all would be happier.

Then, Dr. Croxton said, consider why you live in Sedalia. Some people don't like the town, they think there is greener grass somewhere else, but when people live in a place they should either like it or move on. He went on to say that he was leaving Sedalia soon, not because he didn't like it, because he loves the town or he wouldn't have stayed here 13 years. Having the feeling that he wouldn't like to go into a town where a former pastor lived, he is doing unto others as he would like them to do unto him, moving on somewhere else so the new pastor will be free in serving his congregation. Always, he said, give a good impression of what you're doing and where you live. Always be constructive whether it is for the town, the state or the nation, Dr. Croxton said.

Then Dr. Croxton went on. Why are we here at all? There must be some good reason. When we debate what life is all about we get confused. The thing to do is get our feet on solid ground. Many times we lose vision, get to thinking about ourselves and forget about the other fellow. When we adopt a philosophy to work out problems as they come, it brings the best out in us. Sometimes people have it too easy and it takes something that hurts to touch the core of the heart. The main thing in life, he pointed out, is to get all you can out of life and enjoy it but at the same time do all the good you can. He told of a cobbler who went to India as a missionary. When asked what his business was, he said: "My business is to do all the good I can go." "My business is to do all the good I can go."

Dr. Croxton was introduced by Mrs. Nathalia Poynter, program chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Evelyn Rabourn, president, and invocation was by Mrs. Mary Maddox.

Music was by soloist, Mary Jo Case, who sang "Make Believe" from "Show Boat" and "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier." She was accompanied by Miss Patty Schreiner.

Guests introduced were John

FLATTOP—This new version of the piled-up Gibson Girl hairdo was unveiled by Parisian Designer Guillaume in New York City. It was one of a number of old-fashioned hair styles shown for summer, 1937.

Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Steele, Guy Snyder, Miss Minnie Murphy, Miss Bessie Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, Paul Van Natta, Mr. and Mrs. Pinkney Miller, Raymond Carney, Mrs. Thomas Croxton and Mrs. Wallace Lang.

The theme of the evening was "Stars of 1937, The Bosses." Attractive yellow program with silver stars were at each place. A lovely arrangement of lilacs, iris, narcissus and lilies of the valley centered the speaker's table and on either side were white lighted candles in gold star holders. On the other tables were gold star-shaped containers with arrangements of spring flowers in purple and white shades.

Mrs. Elba June Matson, representative from New York of the Community Concert Association, was introduced and explained the campaign this week being made by the Community Concert Association of Sedalia to sell memberships for the association. Such a membership, she said, not only entitles one to the concerts that will be held this next year in Sedalia, but also those in Warrensburg and Jefferson City. The memberships must be secured this week; no memberships will be sold later than Saturday afternoon.

Benediction was by Mrs. Nathalia Poynter.

Young Homemakers Pick Up Work-Saving Hints at Extension Service Classes

Thirty-six Enrollees Are Taught How to Save Steps and Energy in Handling Chores in the Kitchen and in Other Housework;

Classes Are Conducted By Home Agent Opal O'Brian in Series of Meetings During Months of March and April

(Extension Photos)

SECTION TWO

LAPBOARD SAVES WORK—Mrs. Carl Freeman demonstrates the use of a lapboard as an energy saver. This lap board is constructed in a wheel table which makes for convenient use at any location. The wheel table may serve for many uses in helping conserve time and energy. 4-H woodwork members from Striped College 4-H Club made the table shown in this picture.

EASY IRONING—Mrs. Robert Weikal demonstrates the use of energy-saving devices in developing good work habits. Ironing is made easier by using a sit-down ironing board, an iron cord holder on the end of the ironing board, a clothes basket of convenient height, a portable clothes rack for the ironed clothes and a comfortable chair on rollers for easy moving at the ironing board.

Decorative Designs Used

Plastic Dishes Look Very Fragile But Are Durable

By KAY SHERWOOD

One predictable result of spring cupboard-cleaning is the determination to replenish family dinnerware supplies. When dishes are pulled off shelves and counted, shortages are dramatized. You usually find many more saucers than cups, a dwindling supply of cereal bowls, more plates with chips or cracks than you suspected. If you're happy with the pattern and style of your dishes, you'll probably order replacements. But if you're tired of your pattern, or if it has been discontinued, new types and patterns in inexpensive dinnerware invite your inspection. One fast-growing contender for a place on the family dinner table is melamine, a thermoset plastic which won't chip and will resist scratches and stains. The durability of the material is of particular advantage around children.

Although it is not ovenproof, it does resist heat and can be safely washed in a dishwasher. From the standpoint of style, melamine dinnerware has come a long way from the rather heavy-looking designs of a few years ago. Cups are more gracefully shaped with thinner handles. The coupled plates are easier to stack. Translucent white backgrounds point up new decorative designs in a variety of color combinations. These range from a casual turquoise and yellow leaf motif to the more formal gold borders circling coupled plates.

Brilliant shades of tangerine, chartreuse, emerald and pink appear in unadorned dinnerware along with muted pearl gray, blue and burgundy.

The fashion of mixing table setting colors, or combining patterned and solid-colored dishes, is well established in the plastic field. Solid-colored cups and bowls, for example, will repeat the dominant color used in a plate pattern.

As a result of the school, the following practices were adopted: Rearranged items in kitchen cabinets for more convenience, added step shelves to cabinets, rearranged kitchen equipment and furniture for step saving, raised working heights, reduced number of steps taken in making a bed, learned an easier way to iron a shirt, how to fold a contour sheet, learned how to use a sit-down ironing board, lap board, chair with rollers at ironing board and other sit-down jobs, made a household file, studied good equipment, family living records, life insurance and other practices needed to make the job of "homemaking" easier.

In addition to the class sessions the members checked out books, magazines, and pamphlets from their school library and each member selected a special problem.

A summary of the school activities was made by each one enrolled. The following are comments made by three of the members. "I seemed to discover that I have many, many problems. Some were not as big as mountains after all. I had problems I didn't even know were problems. After they had been brought to my attention—my, how easily they were to remedy—step shelves, rearrangement, a complete mixing center, long handled measuring spoons and other kitchen gadgets, just to mention a few. Oh, yes, my special problem—my kitchen. Since I hope some day to have a new kitchen I am going to thoroughly analyze my activity in the kitchen. Through these classes, I know that several things I have learned will not be pushed aside. My arrangement will be in the direction that I work. I will have a planning area and a rocking chair." This was the statement of Mrs. E. K. Davis, Route 2, Sedalia.

Mrs. Gerald Nicholson, LaMonte, said, "My problem was storage. I have already made a big start in solving this problem. I have rearranged my equipment in my kitchen cabinets. I have made some step shelves for better storage. In the bedrooms I cleaned the closets, discarded some things and changed others so that they would be more convenient for use and yet not in the way. Drawer dividers in the dresser helps keep things straight. I have made a file box in which I now store important papers. A desk, made from a cabinet base, placed in the children's room, provides a place for their books, colors, building materials and also a place for playing with such things."

Mrs. Carl Freeman, Sedalia, said, "In ironing a shirt, I followed the directions for dampening and ironing. I am still slow but find it is easier, and the shirts are ironed smoother. I don't get so many 'new' wrinkles in them as I iron. Along with the shirts, I am doing the whole ironing in a easier way. I put up a hook to hang the ironed garments. I turned the ironing board so the cord does not drag on the clothes and the lighting is better. I now sort my clothes as I dampen them so they are ready to put away when they are ironed. My sister is also trying this improved method.

"Another 'long-range' special problem is planning and arranging my new kitchen, using the ideas I have acquired from attending classes and from reading the material from the Young Homemakers School. These include divided drawers in the dresser and kitchen cabinets, step shelves, chair on wheels, storage units on wheels and dividers for pans, lids, etc. (this to be done with my husband's help). Also I hope to work out a work schedule and a food plan on a year's basis."

The school closed with a graduation program April 30 held at the Fox Theater in Sedalia.

Presiding was Mrs. Irwin Robb, chairman of the advisory committee. Miss Sheila Linville played an accordion solo. Kristian Kolberg, American Field Service student from Norway presented an illustrated talk on his home country.

Diplomas were presented by Miss O'Brian to the following graduates: Mrs. Joe Anderson, Mrs. E. K. Davis, Mrs. Cloyd Merk, Mrs. Robert Weikal, Mrs. Rudy Rehmer, Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. Bob Knight, Mrs. Emmett Bohon Jr., Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. Gerald Nicholson, Mrs. Ralph Thomas, Mrs. Robert Dennis, Mrs. Owen Fox, Mrs. Eldon Rieckhoff, Mrs. Raymond Brandt, Mrs. James Meyers, Mrs. Eugene Brockman, Mrs. R. ## Members of Homemaking School Find They Must Do Their Share of Studying Books

Thirty of the 36 Young Homemakers enrolled in the school for Young Homemakers in Pettis County completed the requirements of attending at least four out of the five class sessions held during March and April.

There were three schools set up for the group. These were in Sedalia, Georgetown, and R-I School. The school was sponsored by the Home Economics Extension Club County Council. The Council advisory committee was composed of Mrs. Irwin Robb, chairman, Mrs. Roy Ream, Mrs. John Knaus, Mrs. F. A. Schutte, and Mrs. Charles Matthews. The school was taught by the home agent, Miss Opal O'Brian.

The Young Homemakers School was started by the Extension Service as a service for homemakers under 35 years of age who were interested in help with making the job of managing a home an easier one.

Each school met for five class meetings. The subjects studied were: Planning Work to Make It Easier; Business of Housekeeping; Kitchens, the Most Important Room in the House; Good Grooming for Homes; Household Records and Insurance.

As a result of the school, the following practices were adopted: Rearranged items in kitchen cabinets for more convenience, added step shelves to cabinets, rearranged kitchen equipment and furniture for step saving, raised working heights, reduced number of steps taken in making a bed, learned an easier way to iron a shirt, how to fold a contour sheet, learned how to use a sit-down ironing board, lap board, chair with rollers at ironing board and other sit-down jobs, made a household file, studied good equipment, family living records, life insurance and other practices needed to make the job of "homemaking" easier.

Famous Painter Quits Films To Return to Brush, Easel

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood ruined me," said Harry Lachman, a famous painter who became a film director and now at 71 has returned to his brush and easel.

Never heard of Harry Lachman?

Well, he was a pioneer impressionist whose works hang in half a dozen leading museums and won him the French Legion of Honor. Opera singer Mary Garden once bought one of his paintings with a $3,000 check she had just received for singing "Aida." Endorsing the check to Lachman she said, "Art for art!"

Remember "Baby Take a Bow," the picture that springboarded Shirley Temple to stardom? Lachman directed it.

Actually, Lachman, a slender, wry witted man with fabulous memories, has had five successful careers—as an illustrator, photographer, impressionist painter, movie director and businessman.

Born in La Salle, Ill., and orphaned at 4, he never attended an art school in his life.

"But at 19 I was a magazine illustrator selling covers to the Saturday Evening Post and Cosmopolitan," he recalled. Then he switched to the still camera and became one of Chicago's top photographers of children. One of his best portraits was of a sensitive, faced child named Dickie Leach, later to grow up and become the partner of Nathan Leopold in an infamous murder.

Soon after, Lachman went to Paris where he painted for 18 memorable years as a contemporary of Monet, Renoir, Matisse, Rodin and Modigliani.

Modigliani, slowly starving and soon to die by his own hand, mistook Lachman for a tourist at their first meeting, offered to paint his portrait for one franc. "At that time he was even giving his paintings away for hair-cuts," said Lachman grimly. "Now they are priceless."

Lachman sold 45 of the 55 paintings at his first one-man show, including two to the Luxembourg Museum.

He accepted an invitation by director Rex Ingram to help make "Mare Nostrum," then became a director himself.

"Then I am taken to Hollywood, and I am ruined," he said ruefully. "I made a really great picture with Spencer Tracy called 'Face in the Sky.' The critics said it was 'an artistic gem,' a frightful thing to say about a picture then."

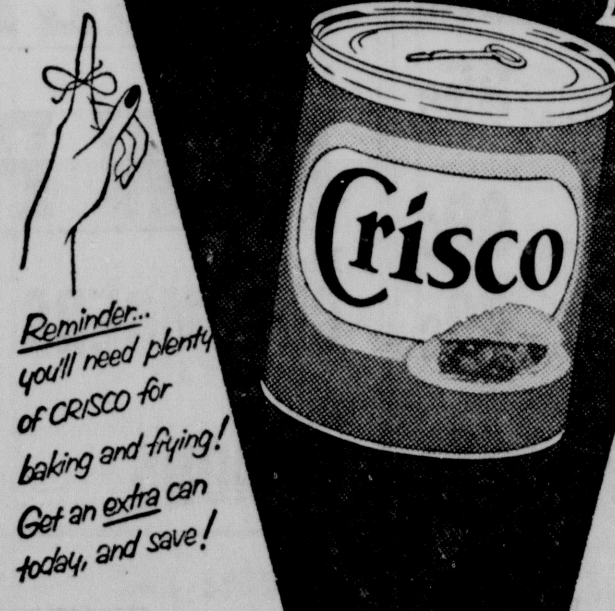

Lachman then became a successful novelty manufacturer. Last year he took up painting again at the urging of Armand Hammer, a Manhattan art gallery owner, and Mrs. Grace Robinson, former wife of Edward G. Robinson, movie actor.

Lachman, who has an exhibit now at the Hammer Gallery, is exuberant because he feels he has regained his old mastery of the brush.

"It was a mistake ever to give it up," he mourned. "The films were not worth it. I lost 30 years out of my life."

Scout Leaders Hold Merger Plan Meeting

Officials of the Boy Scout headquarters, Jefferson City, in a move to consolidate the work of their field executives, and in an effort to have the career men in a position to cover more territory, serve more units, have gone on record as recommending the joining of the Pettis and Saline Districts.

Several days ago officials from Pettis County met with Saline officials in mapping plans for this consolidation. The only action taken at this meeting was to go back to their respective districts and lay before their members the agreement which they had reached. This was done last Thursday night at the regular Pettis District meeting at the Broadway Presbyterian Service building.

C. A. Phillips, district chairman, when telling of just how and where the meetings would be held in event the consolidation met with approval of the Pettis District members, said, "We will not make any recommendations on this. We feel there should be debate before we ballot. Our presently divided district as it affects us and the Saline people is this—our field executive is forced to plan two meetings (district), two roundtables, two camporees—everything here in our district must again be simulated in the Saline district. That just simply spreads our manpower too thin."

Asked where the meetings would be held if the plan was voted favorably, Dick Snow, one of the local members who met with the original planners, said, "We have tentatively worked out plans for our meetings to be held at the school house just east of the intersection of Highway 50 and 65, at the building where the Scoutmasters training sessions were held."

It was pointed out that the Monegan District just south of us merged some months ago and results of this are beginning to prove its value. "Population-wise," said Phillips, "we may be just a little bigger than Monegan, but that is in our favor. I will say just one Kim Dabner, Mary Eye, Larry Perkins and Margaret Bohon were the graduates.

Mr. Scotten announced that Kim Dabner had received the highest score on the eighth grade tests in Pettis County.

Moving pictures of each graduation exercise since 1933 were shown by Bonnard Schupp.

Harold Meier Enters Six Months Training

Army Pvt. Harold D. Meier, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Albert J. F. Meier Cole Camp, recently began six months of active military training under the Reserve Forces Act program at Ft. Leonard Wood.

Meier is receiving eight weeks of basic combat training, which will be followed by advanced individual and unit training. After completion of the six-month tour of active duty, he will spend the remainder of his military service in a local Army Reserve or National Guard unit.

The 21-year-old soldier is a 1937 graduate of Valparaiso (Ind.) University and a member of Alpha Psi Omega and Alpha Pi fraternities.

more thing about this plan; the state executive council will have to be petitioned, and if they act favorably on our petition, and if the results of this merger aren't satisfactory, all we have to do is to petition again for separation."

Hot Rolls Rise to Occasion

OLD FASHIONED FAVORITE—Sweet mountain rolls are made with yeast and mashed potatoes.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Sweet Mountain Rolls

Ingredients: 1 cup milk, 1 cup hot mashed potatoes, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/4 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 cup warm (near 105 degrees) water, 1 package active dry yeast, 2 eggs, 5 to 6 cups sifted flour, red jam.

Method: Scald milk; stir in hot mashed potatoes, shortening, sugar and salt; let stand until lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm potato-milk mixture. Beat eggs thoroughly for a few minutes and add with 1 1/2 cups flour; beat well. Cover and let stand in a warm place until full of bubbles—about 1 hour. Stir in enough of the remaining 4 1/2 to 5 cups flour (and any extra needed) to make a fairly stiff dough. Turn out on lightly floured surface; knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased mixing bowl; grease top of dough; cover and refrigerate. About 1 1/2 hours before serving, remove dough from the refrigerator and roll out to about 1/4-inch thick. Cut with biscuit cutter and place rounds of dough on greased cookie sheet or in shallow making pan. Let rolls rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about one hour. Push thumb into the center of each round. Fill center with jam, using about 1 1/2 teaspoons for each. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot.

How to Knead

First step: Flatten dough slightly by pressing it firmly, with the fingers of both hands. Fold it over on itself toward you; use a rolling motion.

Second step: Push the ball of dough away from you with the part of your palm that is nearest your wrist; use both hands.

Third step: Grasp the dough with both hands and turn one-quarter way around on the board; repeat these three steps.

Testing Yeast Dough

The time it takes yeast dough to double in bulk will vary with the temperature of the room, the amount of yeast used, the type of flour used and upon the other ingredients in the recipe. To test whether dough has doubled its original size, press two fingers deep into it; if the holes remain when fingers are withdrawn, the dough has probably doubled in bulk. When the shaped dough has stood in a warm place until it is puffy, press it gently with a finger tip. If a slight indentation remains, it is ready to bake.

Spring Taste In French Dressing

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
A delightful dessert will be yours to serve to family and friends if you will try this recipe. It's a combination of cooked rice, gelatin, sugar, whipped cream and fruit that is a classic of the French cuisine.

Just because springtime's here, we used strawberries for the fruit and found them a happy choice. We turned the dessert into individual aluminum molds that have small indentations in the bottom, then decorated the unmolded 'cups' with a garnish of the pretty sliced red berries. If you have similar molds, be sure to use them for the dessert.

Our Girl Friday, who gobbled up a couple of portions of this Strawberry Rice Cream, says it has such a delightfully balmy flavor it positively gave her a case of spring fever!

STRAWBERRY RICE CREAM

Ingredients: 1 pint basket straw-

STRAWBERRY RICE CREAM made in individual molds and topped off with fresh berries provides fine springtime eating.

berries, ½ cup cold water, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1 cup hot cooked rice, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup heavy cream, extra sugar.

Method: Wash strawberries in cold water, drain and hull; mash enough of the berries to make ½ cup. Berries may be mashed on a plate with a fork. Reserve remaining berries for garnish. Pour cold water into a small saucepan and sprinkle gelatin over top; let stand about 5 minutes to soften. Place over low heat and stir until gelatin dissolves. Mix well with rice, ¼ cup sugar, salt and vanilla; refrigerate. When mixture begins to thicken, mix in the mashed strawberries thoroughly. Whip cream and fold in. Turn into a large or individual molds, or spoon into individual dessert dishes. Chill until firm. Garnish unmolded dessert with remaining strawberries, sliced and sweetened to taste with extra sugar. Makes 6 to 7 one-half cup servings.

Note: After sugar is added to sliced strawberries for garnish, allow to stand at room temperature until sugar dissolves.

RICE NOTES

Use the recipe on the package for cooking 1 cup of raw rice; you will have 3 generous cups of cooked rice and you can use 1 cup in the recipe for Strawberry Rice Cream. The remaining rice should be refrigerated in a covered container. To reheat it to serve with a main dish, just cover it with boiling water, allow to stand for a few minutes and drain. Or use the leftover rice other ways:

SALADS — French cook books sometimes give recipes for salads that include cooked rice. This is surprising because this innovation is usually attributed to American cooking! If you like this idea, add some of the leftover cooked rice to a salad of diced cooked chicken or smoked tongue, diced raw celery and mayonnaise. Other seasonings, such as canned pimiento, green pepper and olives may also be added; so may such cooked vegetables as green peas and finely-cut snap beans.

DESSERTS — Leftover cooked rice may be folded into packaged vanilla or butterscotch pudding after the pudding has been prepared and before refrigerating. If you choose the vanilla-flavored pudding, you may use fresh strawberries or canned pineapple tidbits for a garnish.

SOUPS — A little leftover rice may be added to canned tomato soup that has been diluted with chicken stock or water. Flavor may be pepped up with a bit of curry powder.

PANCAKES — A little leftover rice may be added to griddle-cake batter. These pancakes taste good served with crisp bacon and maple syrup.

View Air Force Fire Power Exhibition

Three local civic leaders and Col. A. J. Beck, 340th Bomb Wing commander, landed at Whiteman Air Force Base Monday after attending the United States Air Force semi-annual fire power demonstration held Monday at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

The local civic leaders, part of a group of 11 prominent midwest dignitaries, including the governor of Nebraska, were: Edwin Houx, president of the Peoples National Bank, Warrensburg; Earl Cheesman, editor and publisher of the Carrollton Democrat, Carrollton; and Richard Green, executive vice-president of the Missouri Public Service Co. in Kansas City. The group had been invited last month to attend the demonstration as the guests of Eighth Air Force and Strategic Air Command.

While at the 800-square-mile Eglin Air Proving Grounds, the civilian visitors saw the latest super-sonic fighters and bombers in action, firing rockets, dropping napalm and destroying ground targets especially constructed for the demonstration. This is the purpose of the fire power demonstration, to acquaint military commanders and civilians with the latest Air Force weapons in action.

Also viewed was the mammoth climatic projects laboratory which can chill aircraft or parts to 65 degrees (F) below zero or heat them to 165 degrees above. The laboratory also has climatic all-weather testing rooms which create snow, hail, sleet, sandstorms, hurricanes or floods to show what can be expected of equipment in different types of weather.

After Col. Beck and the local civilians got off the aircraft, the rest of the group departed in the same plane for the bases nearest their respective homes.

The battle of New Orleans was fought after a peace treaty had been signed. The battle was fought on January 8, 1815, and the peace treaty between the United States and England had been signed at Ghent on December 24, 1814.

MU Group Holds Corn Rate Tests

Plant breeders at the University of Missouri have been conducting a number of tests on rates of planting corn. Three different plant rates were used in tests conducted in Boone, Lawrence, and New Madrid Counties during the past two growing seasons. Rates per acre were 8000, 12,000 and 16,000 plants. All fields were fertilized for the production of 100 bushels of corn per acre.

The 12,000 plants per acre gave the most favorable results. This rate with single-ear hybrids averaged 103 bushels an acre in 1955 during a good growing season. At 8000 stalks per acre, the yield was 86 bushels. The 16,000 stalk rate yielded 100 bushels per acre. Results were very similar in 1956 in a less favorable growing season. Prolific varieties also gave much the same results but there was less spread between yields of the highest and lowest planting rates. With single-ear hybrids, the low planting rate of 8000 plants per acre was too small for effective use of available moisture and plant food. While the high planting rate of 16,000 may produce a large yield in favorable years, the increase isn't great and quality is often hurt.

The university plant breeders say that so far results indicate that prolific hybrids show promise of higher yields than single-ear types. In addition, there's the smaller difference in yield from low or high planting rates.

Other results of the tests showed that as the rate of planting increased, stalk lodging also increased rapidly. At 12,000 plants per acre, lodging was twice as bad as at 8000. And at 16,000 plants per acre, lodging was twice as bad as at 12,000.

How You Can Spot a Liar

There may be fine distinction between a lie and a falsehood; the former is uttered with intent to deceive, the latter oftentimes is an utterance in ignorance of an inaccuracy.

The world is full of liars and falsifiers. Modern science has even gone to the trouble to build a machine to help in the detection of liars. We heard about a wife who suspected her husband of unfaithfulness and was going to sue for divorce unless he submitted to a lie detector test.

Any woman who resorts to use of a machine to detect lies is guilty of traitorship to her sex which since time immemorial has been noted as the best lie detector. But some women just don't use their faculties. Even Eve had a lapse, so the story goes:

Adam developed a habit of roaming around the garden later at night than usual. Eve finally remonstrated and charged Adam with having another friend. Whereupon Adam indignantly reminded Eve that there were only two of them on Earth. After both had retired for the night Adam was awakened by something punching him in the ribs. It was Eve. "What in the world are you trying to do?" demanded Adam. Replied Eve, "I'm just trying to find out whether you have one or two missing ribs."

But down through the ages most wives have become equipped with an instinctive lie detector. Men may never acquire this faculty, but Fred F. Inbau, nationally known lie-detector expert, professor of criminal law at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and a leader in progressive police methods of crime detection, offers a little help to the male by giving five key reactions he has observed in detecting liars:

1. Dryness of the Mouth—In medieval times, suspected liars were asked to spit. If they couldn't they were considered guilty.

And possibly they were, says Inbau. Because lying interferes with the functioning of the salivary glands, producing a dry mouth, he explains.

"Watch for excessive swallowing motions accompanied by repeated attempts to wet the lips," he says. "Sometimes a liar's lips become so dry and sticky they part with a cracking sound."

2. The "Stack of Bibles"—Inbau says persons who are not lying seldom swear to the truthfulness of their stories.

Liars, he says, salt their talk with such expressions as, "I'll swear on a stack of Bibles," or "May I be struck dead if I'm not telling the truth." Thus the speaker hopes to lend force to statements he knows are false.

3. Boasting of High Moral Character—The same psychological motivation as with swearing is involved in the use of expressions such as "I never tell a lie," "I am a very religious man," or I could never have done such a thing."

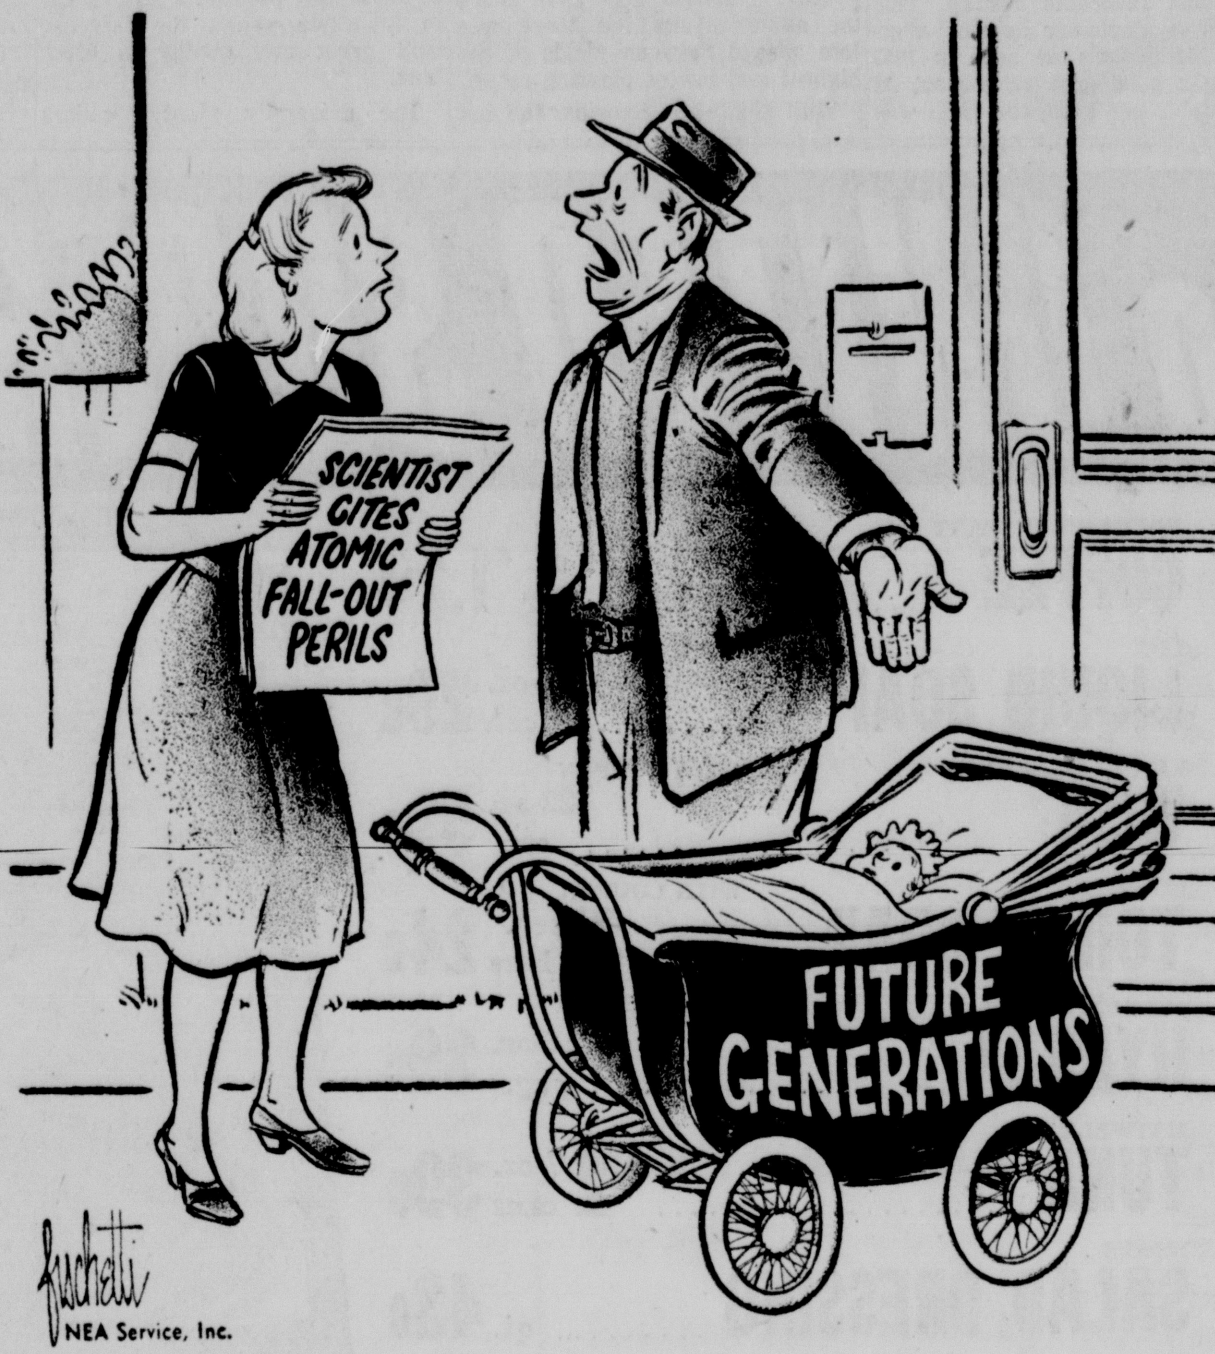

4. "Not That I Remember"—Time and again, says Inbau, he has heard these identical words repeated by guilty suspects.

Most persons find it easier to tell a half lie than a whole one, Inbau has discovered. Thus the liar compromises on "not that I remember" when replying to questions related to specific facts or events.

5. Pulsation of the Carotid Arteries—These two arteries pass up the throat on either side of the Adam's apple. Their accelerated throbbing often accompanies a lie, although the reaction can be merely an indication of nervous temperament.

Perhaps these rules may not help much in the quest for truth, but surely they will go a long way toward spotting the designing liar, yea, even the teller of falsehoods.

"I Don't Hear Any Objections From Him"

The World Today

Ike Places His Influence on the Line

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is embarking on a hazardous personal adventure in finally deciding to appeal directly to the public for support of his record peacetime budget of almost 72 billion dollars.

He is laying on the line his influence, his popularity and his leadership in the two broadcasts he will make. He is asking the people to do what he has been unwilling to do: put enough heat on Congress to get it to listen to him.

If Eisenhower's broadcasts fail—if the people do not respond by pressuring Congress—the lawmakers will probably take it as a fresh license not to listen to him. They've been doing very little listening to him in 1957.

There have been other times when he explained his actions to the nation in broadcasts. But the circumstances were different. Then his leadership was not being challenged in both houses of Congress as it is now.

Although he has protested repeatedly in the last four months against any heavy slashes in his budget, both the Democratic and Republican leaders in the two houses are still talking in terms of sharp cuts.

He made those protests in news conferences, in speeches to special groups, or in other public statements aimed at Congress.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Max Curtis, with the passenger department of the MKT, with headquarters at Dallas, Tex., was here for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Curtis, 401 West Fourth.

—1932—
Don Miller, former day clerk at Hotel Bothwell, and Walter Keith, Boston, Mass., after visiting Sedalia friends, left for Springfield, Mr. Miller's home.

—1932—
Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Broadbush, 916 West Fifth, returned home from Rochester, Minn., where they made a trip for a brief pleasure visit.

—1932—
Rain, badly needed for crops, fruit and grass, fell in generous amount Sunday and farmers, elated, were still hoping for more.

FORTY YEARS AGO
Wednesday and Thursday morning several Sedalians, accepted for three months training at the Officers Reserve Camp at Ft. Riley, Kan., left for that place. They included: Frederick M. Pannell, Charles E. Cutter, Jr., William H. Powell, Jr., Rolla C. Bowman, Charles G. Wilson, Wallace E. May, Paul T. Henderson and Ira N. Sprecher.

—1917—
Luther Luckett, advertising man on the Arkansas Democrat, Little Rock, Ark., arrived for a visit with his parents.

—1917—
Coach W. B. Hankle, who was to leave for Officers Training Camp at Ft. Riley, Kan., was presented with a $20 gold piece by girls who were members of his "gym" class in the Broadway Presbyterian Church gymnasium.

—1917—
Guthrie McCormick returned to Richmond, Va., following a visit with relatives here.

There is little evidence he attempted to assert his personal influence and leadership with individual members of Congress. His policy for four years has been to avoid any personal conflict with Congress, no matter how badly he wanted something done. He's still doing that by going around Congress in an appeal to the people.

Not only his budget is in danger from the lawmakers who are not listening to him. Some of his biggest programs—like federal aid to education and civil rights—seem headed for the trash bin.

This Congress, now in its fifth month, has moved so slowly it has passed only two major Eisenhower requests: approval for his Mideast program and continuation of corporate and excise tax rates.

It was predicted when he won his second term that he'd have far less influence on the lawmakers than in his first four years. The reason: because he's constitutionally banned from a third term, even his own Republicans don't need him as much as when, during his first term, he could run again and help them politically.

The prediction appears to be coming true fast.

A Natural Experience

Parents Can Help Prevent Child From Being Stutterer

By LEON K. WHITNEY
Speech Therapist

Crippled Children's Center
Stuttering is not a cause of speech deficiency, but a type. When a child has become a confirmed stutterer it is likely parents will not be able to lessen his stuttering to any considerable degree. A speech therapist will usually be needed. Before a child becomes a confirmed stutterer, however, there is much the parents can do to prevent his becoming one.

Nearly all children have periods of stuttering. It has been pointed out previously that in near seven years of age before his speech muscles function well enough to give him good speech. Would we not, then, expect a young child to have occasional difficulty in getting his sounds to come out right, particularly when he is excited? It is comparable to his stubbing his toe and taking spills when he gets in a hurry, before he has learned to walk and run efficiently. These experiences of repeating words over and over while talking, or of getting stuck on a sound so that there is a prolonged "ah-ah-ah" or "p-p-p," or the like, are called primary stuttering by speech authorities. Stuttering that has become a habit they call secondary stuttering, or confirmed stuttering.

Since primary stuttering is a common and natural experience during the period of learning to talk, most children will experience fewer and fewer of these stutter-blockages as they grow into a more efficient functioning of speech muscles, if they are allowed to do so.

If they are allowed to do so! Therein lies the opportunity for parents to prevent the onset of secondary stuttering. They will do that by religiously preventing the child from becoming aware of his blockages, or at least from getting a feeling that blockages are anything but natural. Disturbed reaction of many parents to primary stuttering is understandable, but not desirable. When Johnny gets stuck on a word, parents are likely to feel, "Oh my! Our boy is a stutterer!" If they do not

But Eisenhower's own administration can be blamed for starting the whole country on a budget-cutting spree. Congress just echoed what some of his most important aides said early in the year: billions could be cut off the budget.

Eisenhower has spent a lot of time since then trying to explain that statements made from within his administration didn't really mean what they seemed to mean and that the budget couldn't stand much cutting.

But even at this late moment—almost the moment he announced he would go directly to the people—Eisenhower avoided anything which might look like a conflict with Congress.

He was asked this question at his news conference yesterday: Did he think the "Republican leadership in Congress is giving your program and your budget the support you think it should have from them?"

Eisenhower never answered the question directly. The Republican leaders in House and Senate are both calling for budget cuts and his Senate leader, Sen. Knowland of California, has stuck a harpoon in his federal aid to education plan.

In Portraits They'll Hang

Outstanding Senators Had A Few Eccentricities

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON—There are several odd points that may be made about the peculiar project undertaken by Senator Jack Kennedy's special committee on the reception room.

That project, of course, was the selection of five outstanding Senators whose portraits are to hang in said room. One odd angle is that the Senate decided to undertake the task itself.

As a result, a painting of the outstanding Senator of this century won't be hung. He was George Norris of Nebraska. The name is still an evil word to Republican traditionalists. It is proscribed, so to speak. Senator Curtis (R-Neb.)

a member of the select committee, practically proved that by expressing surprise anyone should think Norris was under consideration.

And what of those departed Senators who were chosen? Daniel Webster was a drunkard and a defender of the National Bank, which was his paymaster.

Henry Clay was the man who would rather be right than President. He was neither. His fame derives from the compromises he worked out. Unfortunately the issues could not be compromised.

John Calhoun was a rebel who insisted that slavery "is, instead of evil, a good—a positive good." He thought to have South Carolina nullify acts of the federal government. Andy Jackson settled that by threatening to hang him. Senator Kennedy praises Calhoun for evolving the doctrine of the concurrent majority and for defending the rights of a political minority against the dangers of an unchecked majority. Calhoun's real aim was to impress the will of the minority on the majority. His theory of the concurrent majority was rather interesting. But judge for yourself whether this concept was or is realistic.

Calhoun was fearful of government by numerical majority. He favored government by the whole community. By this he meant that both the minority and majority should have a voice in the government. He proposed the creation of a dual executive—a President of the South and a President of the North. Each was to enjoy veto power over acts of Congress. No bill could become law unless approved by both Presidents.

The elder Bob La Follette of Wisconsin also won the select committee's favor. Fighting Bob earned his name. But he could be wrong. He was the leader of that little band of stubborn men who fought President Wilson's plan for arming American merchant ships before the country entered the first World War.

Senator Robert Taft made the grade, too. Taft was the beau ideal of conservatives. Oddly enough, Senate service made him less conservative and more of an intelligent Tory. He was willing to give here and there to save on other fronts. Taft endorsed, and worked to assure enactment, of legislation authorizing federal assistance for construction of hospitals and of low rent housing. Both measures were and are considered socialist in conservative circles.

The man who did the most to sell these programs to Taft still serves in the Senate. He is Lester Hill, a Democrat from Alabama. But he is living and therefore ineligible for the Hall of Fame.

One thing the five outstanding Senators had in common: they all were great talkers. But what Senator isn't?

Secretary Humphrey Will Resign Soon

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON—The first cabinet official to resign, since President Eisenhower's reelection, is likely to be Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey and it's likely also to be "soon."

So much is this taken for granted that the Palace Guard has stopped talking about his possible resignation and has started guessing if history will put him alongside of the three great secretaries of the treasury: Alexander Hamilton, Albert Gallatin and Andrew Mellon.

That George Humphrey, now 67, has had a popularity second only to the President is recognized but he will probably be remembered by this Congress as the man who started the wild furor "to cut the budget" by disagreeing with the estimate of the President's largest peacetime budget of nearly $72 billion.

Sherman Whiprecht Observes 80th Birthday at Open House

Although he seems to stay young in looks, in actions and in mind Sherman G. Whiprecht, well-known salesman of men's clothing, employed at Wilson's Clothing Co. observed his 80th birthday anniversary Sunday.

For the occasion his niece, Mrs. Charles Arnest, 501 West Broadway, with whom he makes his home, entertained with open house in his honor between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 Sunday afternoon and more than 100 friends called at the home.

Although he wasn't born in Sedalia, he came here at an early age and is the last of his family. His father owned a grocery store and when he was about 16, Sherman Whiprecht started his own career in the selling field by getting himself a job at the St. Louis Clothing Store. In 1949 he retired and a short time later the St. Louis Clothing Co. sold out. But down on the next corner from where he started, Wilson, who had been a salesman and sold to the St. Louis Clothing Co. for years, had started up in business and kept trying to get Sherman to work for him. At first it was just helping out a bit and the next thing he knew he was back on the job of selling men's clothes again.

When his wife's sister died and left two little youngsters, Jim and Mary Eisenhart, they became part of the Whiprecht household, and he couldn't have been better to them or loved them more if they had been his very own. The children married and left in 1943, after the death of his wife, his niece Mary, who is now Mrs. Charles Arnest, did the same thing for him that he had done for her—she gave him a home. Here, with Charles and Mary and their four sons, Charles, John, James and David, he was just as welcome as could be and he has adored the youngsters, watching them as they grew, the oldest now working with him at Wilson's. He would have been welcome in Jim's home, too, with his wife and two youngsters, Susan and Neil.

It was a wonderful day for Sherman Whiprecht last Sunday, and the four sons of Mary assisted in entertaining, with John having charge of the guest book, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Eisenhart and children, Susan and Neil, who now live in Overland Park, Kan., were also here, and Susan, the only girl in the family, was as busy as a little bee assisting Mrs. Herbert Richards, who presided at the punch bowl.

The centerpiece for the dining table was of pink carnations and purple stock arranged in a beautiful cut glass bowl that had been a wedding gift to him and his wife. On either side were three branch silver candelabra.

Mrs. Elver Cecil served the cake and assisting in serving were Mrs. Albert Runge, Mrs. Earl Cline and Mrs. Cline Cain.

The home was filled with flowers sent by friends of Mr. Whiprecht and he also received many cards and gifts.

Anti-Noise Ordinance Bans Bird Chirping And Dog Barking

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—When Long Beach wants quiet it intends to have it, by legislation if necessary.

The City Council has proposed curbs on 14 types of noise between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. For example, it exempts vehicle noises, but cracks down on loud playing of phonographs, radios and television sets. There may be no yelling or shouting on the streets between those hours, and the ordinance draft says, there must be "no barking of dogs or singing of birds."

This undoubtedly would put a crimp in the birds' early morning activities, and it is bringing wrinkles to the brow of City Atty. James T. Starr, who has been asked to advise the council if the ordinance is enforceable.

Shaughnessy Hits It Rich In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The fat man chewing on an ice cream sandwich and a candy bar in the middle of the morning appeared to be the least likely candidate for film success.

With glasses, wild reddish hair and an Irish face, he looked like an inflated Mickey Rooney. But Mickey Shaughnessy has hit it rich in films.

He's been around town for five years, but only recently did his career take off. He plays Gregory Peck's punchdrunk pal in "Designing Woman" and puts in a gem of a performance. MGM quickly cast him in "Don't Go Near the Water" and "Until They Sail."

Now he's at Universal playing a hood in "Slaughter on 10th Ave." As soon as he finishes, he dashes back to MGM to be Elvis Presley's criminal mentor in "Jailhouse Rock."

"They're talking about a contract out there," Mickey said in an offhanded way. He might find a comfortable niche at the Culver City lot, where a guy named Wallace Beery reigned for many a year.

Barrel-shaped Mickey is 39 and no stranger to show biz. "I'm from Philadelphia, so is my wife," he said. "I started as a kid at Coney Island and other joints doing the singing waiter bit. It was stealing, but maybe you could make a couple of bucks for a song."

Mickey worked his way up as a comedian in the saloons. After time out for the Army, he returned to the niteries, climbing in class.

"In 1948, I told my wife I'd play the Copa in New York within seven years," he remarked. "I made it in three."

His night club salary ranged from $1,250 to $3,000 a week.

In 1950, Mickey made another prediction: that he would be playing roles in movies within five years.
